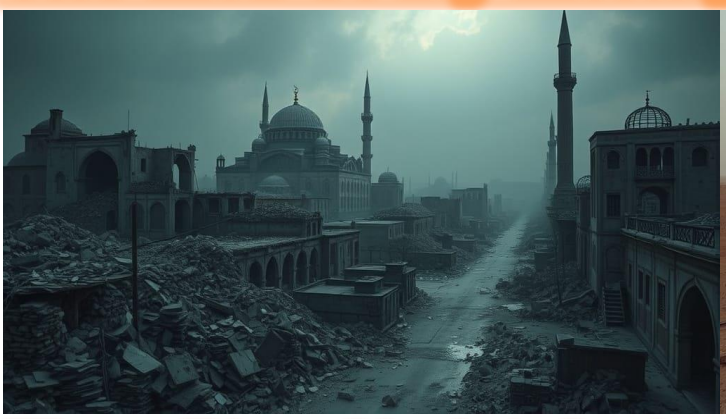
The End Of My Enemy Nation Iran Forever!



“There will be nothing but utter desolation against My enemy the land of Iran. The Prince of Persia has got to go— into Hell he shall go eternally— he has afflicted My people too much. Like Assyria, My enemy shall be judged by My prophet, and the Angel of Death shall eliminate its hordes in the Iranian Army. I have seen the Iranian leadership in its national legislature demanding death to Israel, and I will repay in full— the prophet has spoken. I will destroy Iran totally, and not a soul will be left— it is My wicked enemy, full of Satan himself. I will judge its wickedness, says the Living God, and I will punish it eternally— into the Lake of Fire it shall go, My wicked enemy. Never again will it taunt the land of the nations overseas and domestically with its death threats— nuclear weapons will be no more. Never again will they engineer weapons of mass destruction, for I will put an end to its wicked regime. My people Israel will emerge victorious for I shall put an end to the evil regime of Iran, and its people will be scattered abroad if they want to survive. Never again will the land of Iran be inhabited again, for I will put an end of all who live there eternally. Never again will the nomad traverse its radioactive wastes, for I will ensure that all die by My wrath, and nothing but bare bones remain, for I will end the habitation of Iran, and will never again will a soul live there eternally, for they have offended Me, the Living God, and My people Israel, whom they have threatened with weapons of mass destruction, for I Am their God eternally! Send far and wide to embassies. Your God has spoken, amen.”
